

Hi, I'm Dr. Bench, an internationally certified SOT™ Practitioner. Sacro Occipital Technic (SOT™) Methods is a whole body chiropractic technique from head to toe---literally. I adjust the cranial bones and extremities plus everything in between. Part of SOT™ Methods is a technique called, CMRT™. Chiropractic Manipulation Reflex Technique (CMRT™) is the link between your bones and your organs. Your organs have the potential to cause subluxations (misalignment of the vertebrae) just as subluxations can cause organ dysfunction. I believe in a thorough exam to be sure I understand how and why your body is the way it is before we begin any care. At Evolution Chiropractic, you will experience something new: a new way of thinking, a fresh approach to healing, caring and friendly staff, and an outlook on the synergy between all your health care teams.

Consultations are always complimentary. Check out our website for more information, and to read miracle stories and testimonials: www.evochiropractic.com

Allow me the opportunity to help you get back to who you are—happy and healthy!

Sincerely,

Dr. Bench
