

WWI Traveling Gallery:
Honoring our Heroes History Tour
Oct. 26th, 9:00AM - 4:30PM
FREE ADMISSION

Location: In the parking lot west of the museum

Cost: Admission to the gallery is FREE

(does not include admission into the Museum of Idaho)

Designed by historians and curators at the National World War I Museum, the gallery provides an informative, engaging overview of America's participation in WWI and the circumstances that brought other nations into conflict.

The WWI traveling gallery is housed in a customized, 18-wheel, "big rig" truck and provides a window to WWI and its primitive tools and equipment, frightening trench warfare conditions, and haunting sights and sounds.

Presented by Waddell & Reed, the gallery features:

- Artifacts such as weapons, tools, equipment and uniforms
- A walk-through trench that simulates the war environment
- Videos and audio tracks
- Headlines and historical descriptors
